

Dr. Summer Rebensky, Senior Scientist, Aptima, Inc. has 10 years of expertise focusing on human performance, cognition, and training in emerging systems. In her role at Aptima, Inc. she serves as the portfolio lead for Air Force training, learning, and readiness technologies. She specializes in leading efforts to develop, test, and implement virtual or mixed reality, trustworthy AI, and modern training solutions to improve and measure human performance. Dr. Rebensky received her BA in psychology, MS in aviation human factors, and PhD in aviation sciences with a focus in human factors from Florida Tech.